THE NEW BOOKS ADDED.

Library Committee of Rotary Book Club Receiving New Books.

The Rotary Book Club has just added to its list of books a number of new novels. In this selection the management of the library has used great care, and they feel sure the books will prove interesting to all lovers of good fiction.

"The Weaver of Dreams," by Myrtle Reed, is a story full of sweetness, and is Miss Reed's last novel.

"The Iron Woman," by Margaret De Land, is strong and forceful, full of vital interest and deep human emotion.

"The Broad Highway," by Jeffery Farnol; "Four in Family," by Florida Summerwell; "Flamsteed Quarries," by Mary Waller, author of "The Woodcarver of Lymptus"; "The Golden Silence," by The Williamsons—(every one knows the Williamsons—books, and to read one is to want all); "The Harvester," by Gene Porter Stratton; "Indifference of Juliet," by Grace S. Richmond; "Members of the Family," by Owen Wister; "The Mistress of Shenstone," by Florence Barclay, author of "The Rosary"; "How Leslie Loved," by Anne Warner; "The Prodigal Judge," by Vaughn Kester, a story rich in incident and full of humor; "Winning of Barbara Worth," by Harold Bell Wright, author of "The Shepherd of the Hills."

Space will not allow further enlargement on these splendid books. A treat is in store in every one. Those who are already members of the library are fortunate in having the opportunity of getting so much for so small a fee. There will also shortly be added to the library a number of good standards and a splendid encyclopedia. The library will be open from 10 to 11 o'clock Thursday mornings and from 4 to 5 o'clock Monday afternoons, from October 16.

The subscription price is: One month 25c.; one year $1. A volume can be taken out for the sum of 10c. by any one not a regular subscriber. Miss Katie Schumacher, librarian, will be glad to take your subscriptions.

INDIAN PRISONER ESCAPES.

A Cherokee Accused of Girl's Murder—Sheriff Outwits Lynchers.

Asheville, N. C., Oct. 8.—Ross French, 21 years old, a Cherokee Indian, living on the Birdtown, Swain county, reservation, was safely locked in the county jail here to-night, charged with the murder of Ethel Schuler, 14-year-old daughter of a Birdtown farmer, after having attempted to assault her. His arrest was effected after an exciting escape from a mob of 100 men, bent on lynching the prisoner.

The body of the dead girl was found Friday in the woods near the town, with her throat cut.

Deputy Sheriff Beck, of Swain county, arrested French on the strength of blood-stained finger prints on the Indian's hat. The news of French's capture spread quickly to the neighboring towns, and a mob of 100 men followed the deputy sheriff to Waynesville, where French was lodged in jail. As the mob continued to grow, the sheriff called out the militia and the crowd was dispersed. Beck then took his prisoner, through the back door of the jail, to a waiting automobile, to Clyde, 20 miles to-night.

Telephone messages from Waynesville to-night stated that threats of lynching were being freely made there.

When captured this morning French claimed that the blood stains on his hat were those of an owl which he had shot in the woods. To-night, however, he is alleged to have stated that the girl made a desperate fight and that she had hit him in the head with a rock.

Cornelius N. Bliss Dead.

New York, Oct. 9.—Cornelius N. Bliss, for years one of the prominent figures in national Republican politics and otherwise well known as a merchant and a member of the dry goods firm of Bliss, Fabyan & Co., died at his home here to-night, aged 78, of heart disease.

The end was not wholly unexpected, as Mr. Bliss had been ill for a year. While his death is attributed to heart failure, there was a general breaking down which came with old age. He was born in Fall River, Mass. He served as Secretary of the Interior in the Cabinet of President McKinley in 1896.

Georgia and Florida Strike Ended.

Atlanta, Oct. 7.—A message received here to-day from Chairman H. O. Teat, of the board of directors of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engine-men, says that the strike of the firemen on the Georgia & Florida railroad has been settled. The men will get 50 per cent of engineers' pay.

Governor Blaise Won't Interfere.

Columbia, Oct. 9.—Governor Cole L. Blaise said positively to-day that he had no idea of interfering with the sentence of death imposed on Samuel N. Hyde, of Anderson, for the murder of his wife and his father-in-law.

THE COE-WILCOX WEDDING.

Popular Young Couple Were Married Last Wednesday Evening.

A wedding which will be of more than State-wide interest was solemnized at the Richland Presbyterian church on the evening of Wednesday, October 4th, at 8:30 o'clock, the parties united being Miss Stiles Marion Coe, eldest daughter of Mrs. Sallie Hughes Coe, and Rev. George Marshall Wilcox, pastor of Walhalla Presbyterian church.

The evening was an ideal one, for, although the sun during the earlier part of the day, hid his shining rays behind a misty cloud, his approving smile was revealed in the radiant face of the moon, as, peeping through the drawn curtains of heaven, she lent her mellow beams to blend with the softer light of myriads of glittering stars which shown down as if in quiet signification of their acquiescence to the solemn scene beneath them.

The church, which on this occasion was scarcely adequately capacious to accommodate the large assemblage present, was most artistically decorated. At the rear end of the church was formed an improvised alcove, the outer walls of which were a solid mass of laurel, while those within, with their snow-white surface profusely besprinkled with graceful sprays of goldenrod, the foundation being overspread with white canvas, presented a most exquisitely beautiful and attractive appearance. Just above the immediate arched entrance to this aperture depended a huge bell, surface-covered with large yellow chrysanthemums, broad strands of yellow ribbon being used in securing it to position, these stretching from the upper end of the bell to the rear and side walls of the alcove. A stand of luxuriant ferns was placed on each side of the entrance.

Precisely at the hour appointed, while the soft, mellow notes of Lohegrin's Wedding March were being admirably executed by Mrs. S. K. Denny, Jr., of Seneca, Miss Margaret Stokes, of Greenville, and Miss Myra Ballenger, of Richland, the bridal party entered the white canvased aisles in separated couples, each individual meeting and crossing the other in front of the altar and taking position on each side. The party came in the following order: The ushers, W. C. Hughes, of Walhalla; G. W. Ballenger, of Seneca; Herbert Wilcox, of Elberton, Ga.; and Hayden Coe, of Richland, all in full evening dress, entering first. The bridesmaids, Misses Evalyn Duffie, of Covington, Ga.; and Pearl Ballenger, of Richland; Misses Gladys Crawford and Lillian Maxwell, of Lexington, Ga.; Misses Beth Coe, the bride's sister, and Marion Wilcox, of Elberton, sister of the groom; Misses Nell Guyton, of Anderson, and Indie Harrell, of Madison, Ga.; then the matron of honor, Mrs. Fred Coe, of Memphis, Tenn., and maid of honor, Miss Kate Thompson, of Madison, Ga., and lastly came the bride, on the arm of her brother, Fred Coe, of Memphis, Tenn., and the groom with his brother, William Wilcox, of Charlotte, N. C., each couple marching in opposite aisles and meeting at the altar, where, standing directly under the suspended marriage bell, the contracting parties were made one, the simple yet eloquent and impressive ceremony being performed by Rev. Samuel Leslie Morris, of Atlanta, Ga., who, at the conclusion of rites placed on her finger the wedding ring, emblem of enduring love and fidelity. Prayer was then offered by Rev. John G. Law, of Walhalla, who in deep, solemn and pleading intonations invoked the benedictions of heaven on the newly wed husband and wife.

The bride looked eminently beautiful, charmingly costumed in elegant white satin with pearl trimmings, made of white tulle hung in graceful folds and was secured in arrangement by a wreath of valley lilies. Her brooch, a gift of the groom, was of pearls and rubies. The bride's bouquet consisted of bride's roses showered with valley lilies. The groom appeared unusually handsome in the conventional black. The bridesmaids were becomingly attired in white marquisette with white fichus, and carried bouquets of large yellow chrysanthemums and plumbago, gathered together with long loops of yellow tulle, while the matron of honor wore yellow chiffon over yellow messaline, with trimmings of applique, and the maid of honor, white chiffon over white messaline, with white chenille fringe, each carrying a bouquet of yellow and white chrysanthemums and plumbago. The pianists wore dresses of white chiffon over yellow messaline. After the ceremony, marching in pairs to the euphonious strains of Mendelssohn's popular march, the bridal party left the church, traveling in automobiles to the home of the bride's mother, where in the tastefully decorated parlor they received the congratulations of quite a number of friends who had been invited to receive them. After an interval spent in delightful conversation and in viewing the splendid array of magnificent and costly wedding gifts, which in themselves mutely attest to the extensive popularity of the young couple, the guests preceded by the bride and groom, repaired to the dining room, where an elaborate collation, consisting of a salad course and ice course, followed by delicious coffee, was served by Misses Myra Ballenger, Margaret Stokes and Beth Coe.

The dining room was superb in its exhibition of artistic skill and refinement. Banks of goldenrod mounted the

RELAY RACE NEXT FRIDAY.

Walhalla and Westminster High School Teams Will Contest.

The first relay race between the Walhalla and Westminster schools will be run next Friday afternoon. Each school will enter fourteen runners for a distance of seven-tenths of a mile for each runner. The race will start at the Wagoner monument at 4 p. m. and will end in Westminster. Every one is invited to see the start, and it is hoped a large crowd will be present to give the "purple and gold" a good send-off. It will be considered a kindness if some will lend vehicles for picking the runners up as they finish. Those who follow the race are requested not to drive between the runners.

Westminster has a strong team and defeated the Seneca team last Friday afternoon. The Walhalla team is not confident of victory, but will enter the race gamely. A little encouragement from the people at home will make our boys put forth their best efforts.

The Walhalla team will be chosen from the following pupils: Gray Macaulay, J. D. Abbott, Robert Macaulay, Furman Hill, Lloyd Brown, Charles Hetrick, Klaren Ritter, Geo. Ford, Marion Moss, Geo. Kaufmann, Harley Phillips, Claude Garrett, Willie Kay, Henry Butler, Louis Riehle, Eugene Abbott, Sam Pitchford and John Edwards.

Kicked by a Mad Horse.

Samuel Birch, of Beetown, Wis., had a most narrow escape from losing his leg, as no doctor could heal the frightful sore that developed, but at last Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured it completely. It is the greatest healer of ulcers, burns, boils, eczema, scalds, cuts, corns, cold-sores, bruises and piles on earth. Try it. 25c. at all druggists.

sideboard and mantel, while sprigs of goldenrod adorned the chandelier, from which hung long, slightly twisted strands of yellow ribbon, alternated with white, reaching down to the long dining table and caught in loops around the edges of the table, forming a peak or cone-shaped figure over the center of the table. Within the cone thus formed was a large mirror bordered with goldenrod and smilax, upon which stood a candelabra of five candles, yellow and white candles being placed around the edges of centerpiece, the whole producing a most pleasing and charming effect.

About 11 o'clock the united pair left for Walhalla, where they were met by a number of friends. On the day following they left for Tennessee for a short stay, their bridal tour having been foregone owing to serious illness in Mr. Wilcox's congregation.

The young couple have the hearty good wishes of a wide circle of friends.

The bride's going-away gown was a dark blue coat suit, with hat matching in color, with trimmings of gold fringe.

The bride is one of Richland's most amiable and popular young ladies and possesses many rare accomplishments, having graduated from Brenau College, and while in that institution made music a specialty, acquiring some renown as a vocalist. She will be sorely missed in the community, but will be quite an acquisition to Walhalla, both in a social and a religious way.

The groom is an able minister, and was for a time pastor of Richland church, the pastoral relation having been dissolved only a few months ago. He holds the admiration of the people of the community and is esteemed by those now under his charge.

In addition to the bridal party, those who attended the reception from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wilcox, Mr. and Mrs. Wilton Auld, Mr. and Mrs. Skelton, of Elberton, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Davis, Greenville; G. F. Tolly, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Tolly, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Muldrow, of Anderson; M. S. Stribling and daughter, Miss Margie, Westminster, and Mrs. S. K. Denny, Jr., of Seneca.

WHO'LL WIN IN BOYS' CONTEST?

Time Nearing for Gathering Corn. Some of the Rules.

To the Corn Club Boys:
The time is near at hand to gather your acres of corn. The following rules are to be followed:

Exhibits must be delivered to the County Superintendent of Education by November 10th.

The amount of yield and the method of measurement must be certified to by each boy and attested by at least two disinterested witnesses, who shall be satisfactory to the manager.

All corn shall be left standing and gathered by or in the presence of the committee. Gather the corn and weigh it. Weigh two 100-pound lots from different parts of the total. Shuck and shell each lot and then weigh the shelled corn in each instance in order to find the average per cent of shelled corn. Multiply the total weight by this per cent and divide by 56 to get the number of bushels.

Estimating Expenses.

Each boy must charge against himself $5 per acre for rent and 10 cents an hour for the work of each boy and 5 cents per hour for each horse. Fertilizer to be charged at cost and barnyard manure at 3 cents per bushel, or $2 for two-horse load, $1 for one-horse load.

Each boy must be honest, truthful and exact in all expenses.

A date and place will be arranged a little later for an exhibition of the specimens of the boys' corn.

I want to insist on every boy making a full report of his acre. Prof. C. B. Haddon, of Clemson College, is sending out report blanks to be filled out to every boy in the club. If you do not receive one right away, write him or to me, and one will be sent to you.

and yet sleepless, Hiram Scranton, of Clay City, Ill., coughed and coughed. He was in the mountains on the advice of five doctors, who said he had consumption, but found no help in the climate, and started home. Hearing of Dr. King's New Discovery, he began to use it. "I believe it saved my life," he writes, "for it made a new man of me, so that I can now do good work again." For all lung diseases, coughs, colds, la grippe, asthma, croup, whooping cough, hay fever, hemorrhages, hoarseness or quinsy. It's the best known remedy. Price 50c. and $1. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by all druggists.

Items from Bounty Land.

Bounty Land, Oct. 9.—Special: Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Davis, of Greenville, were visitors here last week and attended the Coe-Wilcox wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rankin are entertaining a new visitor at their home. The little lady arrived on the 3d.

Luther Bigby, colored, picked 1,211 pounds of cotton in three days last week. A few such hands would keep a cotton gin pretty busy.

Miss May McDowell, of Franklin, N. C., is a guest of relatives here.

The army worms, after a victorious attack on King Cotton, now lie entrenched behind the earthworks of the public highway, ready to do or die, and in most cases they die.

Mrs. Julia D. Shanklin and niece, Mrs. Dick New, will visit relatives in Walhalla to-morrow.

Jesse and Grover Hubbard, of Clemson College, were at home for a short time Saturday.

Wilkes Denny, of Seneca, spent Friday at D. A. Peritt's.

Mrs. M. M. Morris is quite indisposed. We hope for an early improvement.

Delegates of the Farmers' Union of the county met at Bounty Land school house last Saturday. A fairly good delegation was present. Dinner was abundant.

Mrs. Sallie Gilmer, of Seneca, is with her sister, Mrs. J. B. Pickett.
